Shot on location at The Neon Museum and Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area.
 Founded in 1998, the Neon Museum is a two-acre outdoor exhibition space that collects and preserves iconic signs from the Las Vegas Strip. There are nearly 150 signs in the museum's current collection, each offering a unique perspective and link to Las Vegas's history.
 Located 17 miles west of the Strip, Red Rock Canyon was designated as Nevada's first National Conservation Area. The 105,816-acre area is home to spectacular landscapes and endorses more than a million visitors each year.
 Visit with the assistance of the Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority (www.lvcva.com).
